The 'New' CIA?

"spooks" keep showing up.

case of the high-ranking CIA man ac- whole world will love you.

cused of taking secret documents home,
and his countercharge the CIA raided
his house, took the documents and then

The Russian spies see the bloopers,

Well, don't worry. We've thought guard.

about it and we offer you a choice of The Central Intelligence Agency four explanations:

You may be wondering what's There they are cooped up in a hush-happening to the Central Intelligence hush headquarters on the banks of the Agency. The last place a super secret Potomac without so much as a sign on spy outfit is supposed to appear is on the building. They want people to know Page One. But that's where our sthey're alive. they're alive.

Last week, the new director of the 2. - The Agency has been feeling bad CIA got caught out writing a letter to, about its image - cloak and dagger, a St. Louis newspaper praising an rough stuff — and may have hired a editorial blasting Sen. Fulbright. Even public relations firm to soften the Senators who dislike Sen. Fulbright image. The PR plan: Make some prize were riled. Now there's another: The bloopers in full public view, and the his house, took the documents and then The Russian spies see the bloopers, is some of his wife's jewelry was found laugh their heads off, figure their archifoe has lost its touch, and lower their

Those CIA people a re-lonely manner was a

CPYRGHT